Excerpt: . is entirely free from starch, and the transformation of the Hour into soluble dextrine and grape sugar is complete, giving the greatest amount of actual tissue-forming matter in the least bulk of any known preparation. Thus a reliable, economical, and highly nutritious Food which the digestive organs of the weakest infant, dyspeptic, or invalid can assimilate without difficulty, is brought within the reach of every one. This Food will be found to give the best satisfaction in all cases of summer sickness, vomiting, etc. For Samples of any of our preparations, for trial, apply to Henry Thayer Co. Manufacturing Chemists, Oam brid.greport, Mass. r S perform funeral marches and other appropriate music at his grave on anniversaries of his death and on legal holidays. We submit to the American Medical Association whether this proceeding is according to ethics. It is not often that a doctor finds time to dip into light literature, much less to become an author of fiction. We see it stated, however, that Dr. T. C. Minor, late health officer of Cincinnati, is the author of Her Ladyship, an exceedingly popular novel recently published. It depicts Southern life, after the war, and its descriptions are said to be very finely drawn. The Approach of the summer season with its attendant dangers should suffice to remind mothers of the necessity of exerting the utmost care in the selection of a diet for very young children. Injudicious feeding is one of the most...
